THE ST. REGIS WASHINGTON, D.C. AT DUSK

A MONUMENT TO TIMELESS DESIGN.

An architectural masterpiece and stately landmark, The St. Regis Washington, D.C. stands proudly in the epicenter of the nation's capital. Both distinctly modern and undeniably classic, this storied hotel, which has hosted every President since Calvin Coolidge, sets the stage for productive business gatherings and social celebrations alike. Inspired design featuring rich jewel-tones, plush fabrics and vaulted ceilings gives each space an air of regality while retaining a welcoming atmosphere. A marriage of esteemed style and warm hospitality makes The St. Regis Washington, D.C. the premier meeting destination in Washington.

A HAVEN OF SUPREME TRANQUILITY.

Offering a welcome respite at the end of a productive day, each of our well-appointed 157 guest rooms and 25 suites provides unique comforts with impeccable style. Dark wood accents and impossibly soft linens allow a retreat from the world, if only for a moment.

An unwavering commitment to service is the cornerstone of the St. Regis experience. All of the conveniences of home are met and exceeded; state-of-the-art technologies—Bose iPod® sound docking systems, high-speed Internet access and 32” LCD televisions in each guest room and bathroom—are complemented by amenities like signature turndown service and 24-hour, in-room dining.

A UNIQUE OCCASION. PREMIER MEETING VENUE.

Washington, D.C.'s most striking and romantic ballroom is sought after as much for its individuality as for its undeniable beauty. With an original 18-foot-high crafted ceiling and décor inspired by the Italian Renaissance, it is hardly surprising that The Astor Ballroom is the city's foremost venue for weddings and social galas. The ballroom comfortably accommodates up to 200 guests for sit-down banquets and up to 300 for meetings.

In addition to the ballroom, The St. Regis Washington, D.C. offers several other settings to suit a variety of gatherings, including the breathtaking 2,052-square-foot Astor Terrace.
